A welcome from the Directors

Kip McGrath Education Centre's in Basildon & Wickford

Our Centres in Basildon and Wickford belong to a family of more than 700 Education Centres in more than 20 Countries. The Kip McGrath Family started this vision more than 30 years ago and are now one of the Leaders in Supplementary Education.

Breggie and Mr Kip McGrath

Breggie and Wikus Rautenbach Centre Directors

Dear Parent or Carer

You might be unaware of the fact that in the UK almost anybody and his friend can call themselves a "Tutor".

You might be shocked to find that:

- Tutors do not have to be qualified
- Tutors do not have to be teachers
- Tutors do not even have to be CRB checked!

When you consider private tuition for your child, it is therefore very important to ensure you get a qualified, experienced teacher who are fully vetted and insured.

The Kip McGrath Centres are one of the only Private Tuition Providers that exclusively uses qualified, experienced and fully vetted teachers.

As tuition are not subject to any regulations or code of practice in the UK, we opted to be included on the Voluntary OFSTED Register, with all that this entails.

If you find the information in this Prospectus useful, please give us a call today and book a FREE Diagnostic Educational Assessment for your child on (01268) 556700.

To your child's success

Breggie & Wikus Rautenbach
Directors, Kip McGrath (Basildon & Wickford)

“My daughter has attended Kip McGrath for 8 months. In this time her concentration has improved, her language skills and she no longer has difficulty with multiplication. Thanks to Breggie and her team, she has the confidence to complete her work and enjoy doing it. I would recommend this style of tuition to all other parents.”
(Mrs Arrow, Basildon)

Welcome to your Kip McGrath Private Tuition Centre

By reading this Prospectus you are demonstrating your interest in your child's progress and a willingness to address any problems there may be, rather than "hoping everything will turn out in the end". It hardly ever does.

Considering tuition for your child does not suggest you are relinquishing your responsibility in any way.

In fact, your role in the Tuition contract is very important.

- You have to be sure you and your child can commit to the time requirements of tutoring.
- Ensure your child are on time for sessions.
- Prepare your child to be a participant in the tutoring by discussing with him/her that it is similar and different to school (rules, smaller groups etc.) and the purpose of such assistance.
- Help and encourage your child to be a participant in the Tuition process and use the skills taught in their school work and homework.
- Reinforce and praise your child for participating and using what is learned during tuition sessions.

“ I found maths difficult before coming to Kip McGrath. I now find Math easy and it is my favourite subject.
- Sam (Student) ”

“ Since joining my child has been more motivated at school. He is now receiving grades appropriate to his standard. I can see him catching up to his peers. He enjoys school more and is now giving more input in classes. I highly recommend Kip McGrath.

Everyone is very friendly. (Mrs T. Wright, Basildon)

Self Assessment

If you recognise at least 3 of the statements above, you must consider private tuition seriously.

- Your child is showing frustration in a particular subject(s)
- Your child has a low self esteem and thinks negatively of themselves in regards to their school performance
- Your child can't complete assignments in a reasonable amount of time
- Your child lies about having homework, or tries to hide it
- Your child say things like "I don't get it" or "I'm stupid"
- Grades begin to slowly drop
- Your child has lost motivation
- Your child complains of stomach aches, or not feeling well before going to school
- You have to argue with your child to get them to do homework
- Your child's grades don't reflect their potential
- The teacher ask you to assist your child with their homework
- The teacher recommends your child have extra help or the assistance of a tutor
- No matter how hard your child works, grades do not improve

Why do more than 39 000 children choose us every week?

	Tutor	Where?	Lesson	Setting	Assessment	Security	Value
Kip McGrath	A qualified professional experienced teacher, knowledgeable in the National Literacy and Numeracy strategies. Teachers are regulated by Kip McGrath UK.	A purpose designed Education Centre with exceptional resources and a computer for each student. Unlike our competitors, E1we promote long term, life long learning and not only short term solutions.	80 Minutes Lessons. Personalised programmes for each student, targeted at correcting weaknesses, building upon strengths and ensuring a solid educational background.	Individual lesson programmes for each student within a small group setting of up to five students. Concentration NOT Distraction.	A free assessment with no obligation. Age specific Mathematics and English Tests. The results of the assessment will be discussed at the time.	All teachers have a valid CRB Certificate and must have a professional teacher qualification. We are insured.	£26 for an 80 minute lesson, equivalent to £19.50 per hour. A highly competitive rate for the region.
Home Tutor	An individual who teaches in either your home or their home. They may not be a teacher, have qualified teacher status or qualifications. They are not regulated.	Held at either your home or their home, with all the associated distractions. Students often find this situation quite overpowering.	60 Min lessons that is usually targeted at passing examinations. Short term solutions that do not identify problems that must be rectified in order to build a solid educational background.	Individual Lesson. Students quite often find this too intense, with the tutor looking over their shoulder all the time and they are too easily distracted.	An assessment may be provided. Usually they are not. May possibly use past examination papers as tests, which are not appropriate.	High risk with very little security. They may not be insured.	A 30 - 60 minute lesson usually costs between £25 to £50 depending upon the level of education required.
Competitor	An Instructor trained to monitor worksheets. They expect parents to mark the student's work. Not regulated.	Often held in a Church Hall or a multi purpose shared facility.	Lessons last up to 30 minutes and follow a standard programme of worksheets completed in sequence. Students cannot go back over previous work.	A large group of students studying worksheets in a repetitive manner.	An assessment costs £15 or more. It is payable regardless of whether you enrol. It may be conducted by an unqualified, inexperienced instructor.	Please check that the instructor or the organisation is insured and that the instructor has a valid CRB Certificate.	£22.50 per hour (£11.25 for a 30 minute lesson)
